ISO 22301 Business Continuity Management

ISO 22301 is the world's first international Business Continuity Management standard. It provides a framework to protect against, reduce the likelihood or occurrence, prepare for, respond to and recover from disruptive incidents when they arise.

The requirements specified in ISO 22301 are generic and intended to be applicable to all organisations, or parts thereof, regardless of type, size and nature of the organisation's operating environment and complexity.

Delivery - following a disruption it provides a rehearsed method of restoring the ability to supply critical products and services to an agreed level and timeframe.

Resilience - proactively improves resilience when faced with the disruption of an organisation's ability to achieve key objectives.

Management - delivers a proven capability for managing a disruption and protecting (and enhancing) reputation and brand.

Further benefits include cost savings, compliance with applicable laws and regulations as well as identifying opportunities for improvement.

Why seek certification to ISO 22301?

Many organisations seek certification to ISO 22301 to enable them to understand, develop and implement a structured and formalised business continuity management system:

- helping to minimise risk and the chance of disruption to the organisation
- identifying what responses will be needed if a disruption occurs
- providing the capability to adequately react in case of disruption

Holding certification to ISO 22301 also demonstrates to stakeholders that your business continuity capability is appropriate to the size and complexity of your organisation.

Taking the next steps

If you're new to certification, don't worry – our business development team is on hand to take your calls to explain the steps to certification – we have also produced a 'steps to certification' document outlining the process.

Many organisations choose to work with an external consultancy to help implement ISO 22301 and carry out an internal audit, ahead of applying for certification. As a UKAS accredited certification body and in order to maintain impartiality when performing third party audits, we are unable to endorse a particular consultant.

However, you can search for a consultant based in your region through the 'find a consultant' link on our website: www.isoqarindia.com

What the ISOQAR India expert says

“Every day, ISOQAR auditors see dozens of businesses who wouldn't be as successful as they are without ISO 22301. What most organisations come to realise is that it's not just about getting a certificate on the wall - there are real internal benefits that make work more enjoyable and productive. It's also much easier to implement now than it was!”
